

[ORGANIZATION] WILL HOST [EVENT] ON [DATE] AS PART OF FIRST-EVER NATIONAL CIVIC LEARNING WEEK

Civic Learning Week, which takes place March 6–10, will engage the public and private sector in highlighting the importance of civic education in sustaining and strengthening constitutional democracy in the United States.

[CITY, STATE –Date] – [ORGANIZATION] will host [EVENT] on [DATE], as part of the first-ever national Civic Learning Week.

[DESCRIPTION OF EVENT, PARTICIPANTS, AND STATEMENT OF EVENT’S PURPOSE]

The [EVENT] will be held in conjunction with the first-ever national Civic Learning Week, March 6-10, 2023. Civic Learning Week brings together students, educators, policymakers, and public- and private-sector leaders to energize the movement to make civic education a nationwide priority in order to sustain and strengthen our constitutional democracy.

[QUOTE FROM ORGANIZATION]

The week will feature dozens of in-person and virtual events held across the country highlighting the civic knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary for an informed and engaged populace, and showing that civic education can be accessible to any American. These events include an in-person and livestreamed opening form at the National Archives in Washington, DC, a conversation with Sonya Sotomayor, Associate Justice, Supreme Court of the United States, and much more. Visit civiclearningweek.org for a complete list of events.

###

About [ORGANIZATION]

[BOILERPLATE LANGUAGE]